Secrets to Be Made Public

Mr. Starkweather and last night that the secrets to all his theories and discoveries will be made public within the next ninety days. These will be published in a succinct treatise, to be etitled "Man's Infinite Potentialities."

Dued "Man's Infinite Potentialities."
"I am not in search of cheap notoriety of research will be given to the public obsolutely gratis. I am laboring for the benefit of humanity."

"I do not attach much weight to the claims of the gentleman aithough I am sure he is sincere in his motives," said Dr. Woodward. "His theory of sex pre-determination—the law of superfor opposites—seems unsupported by fact. I should like to hear him explain how it comes that many pairs of twins are divided sexually, a boy and a girl; or better yet, that in cases of triplets the two to one proportion is often found. The principle of superior mentality can hardly apply here."
"It seems to me that Mr. Stark-weather is trying to redress theories as old as the Roman Empire itself," said Dr. Norris, "The law of superior opposites is almost as old as time, and is to the present time unproved by fact. I feel certain that his se-called tuber-culosis core is worthless, and I doubt very much whether he can come anywhere near curing cancer.

"The causes of blondes, brunettes, freekies, and moles have long been known—they are a matter of pigment. The claim to determine the span of life of a person by instantaneous inspection sounds something like paimistry. There may be some degree of plausibility in this claim, but no more than that of setting the length of time a man will live by examining the condition of his finger nails."

So great has the interest of The Herald's distribution of dictionaries become that the campaign has ceated to be an educational venture and its row actually an institution. It has been discovered that there is a dispute on as to who purchased the first volume in this library making venture. Of the two applicants for the honor the one who writes as follows seems to have the best claim. "There was a big crowd here when I arrived on the first morning," he said, "and the young man was a little late in opening. As soon as he got inside, however, he grabbed a hook from the shelf and handed it to me, It was the first book sold."

So great attention has been attracted

So great attention has been attracted by the distribution, which has proved the selling power of The Herald as an advertising medium, that one clever youth attempted to set up a dictionary scalping office yesterday. He had provided himself with plenty of the sets of six consecutive coupons clipped from The Herald and secured a half dozen volumes.

Estella Cummings, twenty years old, yesterday pleaded guilty to two charges of grand larceny, and when Justice Gould told her he had determined to return her to St. Elizabeth's, the girl being declared mentally defective by Dr. Hickling, she pleaded with the court to send her to the pentienthary instead.

Justice Gould, who was unwilling to grant her prayer, referred the case to Probation Officer Porter, who will investigate.

Mary Garden has written for a "Alkiadi Ike" doil. Not the Mary Garden has been defined by the season of the samination. It is infimated that the police surgeons think that the Garden we shalk know, but nevertheless a Mary Garden. The Mary Garden we speak of is a fittle girl, seven years old, who lives in Bangor, Me. Her mother read her a story in one of the Bangor papers, in which the child learned that the Essanay Manufacturing Company was been at sory in one of the Bangor papers, in which the child learned that the Essanay Manufacturing Company was been dismounted and detailed to service. See the seed of the film company, telling them that she had saved sixty-three cents and would like them to send her an "Alkiali Ike" doil. The company has forwarded to this little photopay fan a doil mounted on a horse gratis. The Essanay company hopes that Mary will receive as much enjoyment out of the doil as they did in receiving her beautiful letter.

HEMET INCIDENT IS RECALLED

The Japanese Ambassador yesterday informed Secretary of State Bryan that he will present in a day or two a sup-plementary rejoinder to the answer of the United States to the original note of protest against the California allen land law.

Ambassador Chinda did not disclose the nature of the supplementary note which he said he would present on behalf of his government. Secretary Bryan and he did not know of any new development which would require a new argument on the part of the Japanese government.

said he did not know of any new deselogment which would require a new argument on the part of the Japanese government.

One explanation of this unusual procodure on the part of the Japanese sugseated here is that the Tokyo government wishes to make a protest against the incident at Hemot. Cal. last week, when a number of Korcan laborers were expelled from the town. The ambagasdor has never presented to Mr. Byran last week when a number of Korcan laborers were expelled from the town. The ambagasthe views of his government on this occurrance, though Mr. Byran last week informally assured the Japanese Amhassador that it was much regretted by this government.

It also was suggested that the pressure of the oposition party in Japan and its attacks on the Tokyo ministry for its failure to secure from the United States a prompt settlement of the States a prompt settlement of the California land law controversy might be responsible for the supplemental not coming from Japan. The Japanese government has been repeatedly attacked at home by the opposition leaders, who in public meetings and by means of posters as well as in the press. have charged that the existing ministry was incompetent to adjust the matter, because it was taking too moderate a position in the controversy. Fosters making these charges against the government of Japan, and also attacking the sovernment and people of the United States for its treatment of the Japanese, have been posted on the walls of the American Embassy Huilding and in the vicinity of the embassy in Tokyo.
Though apologies were made by the Japanese government for these occurrences, the posters have since resppeared, together with others of an even more violent nature. Only last night, according to press reporta, the opposition held another mass meeting, at which demand was made on the ministry for compelling the United States to meet Japan's objections to the California law.
